BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The anniversary sermon before the senior class of Gould's Academy will be given in the Congregational Church next Sunday, June 4th at 2:30 p. m., by Rev. C. L. Banghart of the M. E. church. As usual, the school will assemble at the Academy and march to the church in a body. Special music is being prepared for the occasion un-and all friends of the students and the school are cordially invited to attend this service.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

---

The graduation exercises will be held in Odeon Hall on Thursday afternoon,

June 8th at two o'clock. The class numbers, twenty-three, being the largest in the history of the school. The class parts are being prepared for delivery under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Vandenkerckhove, and the exercises promise to be of unusual excellence. Postengill's Orchestra of Lawiston will again furnish music.

GRADUATION CONCERT.

The concert by the Orphean Quintette, mention of which is also made elsewhere, assisted by Miss Florence Eaton, reader and impersonator, should attract a very large audience on the evening of June 8th.

RECEPTION.

The reception as usual will be held Friday evening in Golden Hall, where music will again be furnished by Postengill's Orchestra.

It has been impossible for the Senior class to send invitations to all alumni and friends of Gould's Academy, but a most hearty invitation is extended to all graduates and old-time friends.

The concert which was given last night at the Congregational church under the auspices of the Men's Club was attended by a number that taxed the capacity of the large auditorium and everyone of these present enjoyed a program that is seldom offered in this city, for the excellence of these artists taking part. The Orphean Ladies' Quintette is the only organization of the kind ever heard here and was more than equal to the good reports, which preceded it. Every number including the solos was delightfully rendered with a brilliancy and force rarely ever matched by male quartets often appearing in concert in this city. The audience insisted on encores until the ladies were obliged to bow themselves away amid hearty and prolonged applause.—Hennepine Journal

The initial appearance here of the "Soprano Ladies" quartette of Lewiston was more than appreciated and enjoyed. Their first number, "Minnichaba," was especially adapted to the voices and had to be repeated. The second number was a dainty little thing, along with much expression and the chorus "Little Dutch Bells," was clever and most appealing to the audience. Miss Blanche's rich contralto voice in "Minnichaba" and "The Tees" was beautifully sustained, and was one of the most pleasing numbers of the evening. The work of the quartet, Miss Johnson was commended by many for its exceptional interpretation of the piano part of the songs. The suggestions of three ladies were well accompanied with harmonization by those who heard them last evening.—Hills Times

HOTEL ANDREWS TO BE REOPENED.

Hotel Andrews at South Yulfa has been purchased by Harry Totter, a Canadian, and he expects to open another in very soon.

Mr. Totter is one of the Totter Bros. who years ago operated the stage line between Brandon and Winnipeg. But he was a resident of South Yulfa where a hotel and the same place are now situated here.

Note this town's roofing experience!

AQUAS ROOFING

Three years ago the leading dealer in Bethel, Maine, put in Aquas Roofing. At that time three well-known brands of roofing—nationally advertised—were his best. The roofings depicted by Aquas were good in other sections of the country. But they were not good enough to stand New England climate. Aquas is scientifically adapted to this climate. Made carefully from the best grade of compressed wool felt thoroughly saturated with a mixture of Bitumen and Trinidad asphalt.

Extreme cold or heat will not make Aquas brittle or crack it. Extreme heat and dry weather will not make it evaporate or dry up. Moisture has no effect on it. Made in 1/2, 1, 2 and 3 ply thicknesses. Stands hard usage. Be sure to get it.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

MY WIFE.

By Charles Burton Going.

Not the rush and the tread
Of crowds in the city street,
But the still trees darkening overhead
And the sweet fern under feet.

Not the roar of the throng
Where the shining windows gleam,
But a hush that in his evening
And a murmuring valley stream.

Not the dust and the cry
Of the hot streets filled with stone—
But white bill-mists, and the quiet sky
Where the wide, bright stars are strown!

*** ** **
"UNKNOWN U. S. SOLDIER."
"Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori."

The hot sky would split with the up-rear
That day when they fought;
This rest in the stillness and shadow
Gives time for long thought:
He must think of one strange revelation.

One thrilling surprise—
It is better to think with cool darkness
Laid over your eyes.

Time enough for deep thought while the branches
With winter are dumb;
When the great sun swings far to the northward
And summer has come;
He lies hushed with the wonderful knowledge
He holds in his breast
And the bright flag droops always above him
To honor his rest.

Heath and reckless and headstrong and violent.

Tingling with life,
Charmed once by the call of the drums
And the sound of the life—
That day when they waited and waited
And knew they must die, Where was comfort for him, where was help
Beneath the hot sky!

All the life beating strong in his body
Revelled, and cried
Against dying on courage or passion
But only his pride
Sent him on with the others, despairing
And hating it all.
And faint with sick horror at seeing them
Stumble and fall.

The call on the crest of the battle
Up, up toward the death—
"To die for one's country is sweet!"
—he remembered,
And then out of breath, Met the shock and the pain and the terrors Unflinching and knew
In one instant's unbearable brightness
It was true! It was true!
—If Morgan in The Reader

THE BABY ON THE TRAIN.

By John Clair Mace.

The journey had seemed long to day
But for a little child at play.

A baby in the seat ahead
Who laughed as only babies may,
And tossed its curly, tousled head,
And waved its dimpled hands at me,
And cooed at people far and near,
Until the journey ceased to be A tiresome thing, with hours to dread.
And all of us were happier far Because the tot was in the car;
—And that's why God sends babies here.

Forgotten was the storm outside;
No longer did grim cars betide.
The baby in the seat ahead
Threw laughing glances back at me
Until within its eyes of blue
I saw the sky it had come through—
The realm of hope and memory.
And in my heart resentment grew,
Resentment and a form of fear,
At thought of life's unfeeling law
Which would belaud those laughing eyes!

For sorrow waits upon the wise—
And that's why God sends babies here.

Lured onward by a friendly smile,
It ventured once into the aisle,
Then started heavily on the way,
And bobbed gaily all the while.
But just a step or two, and then
The little feet turned back again,
And baby straight to mother fled.
And then I winked away a tear
In thinking of the path ahead—
The weary, weary way I saw
Which those two little feet must tread
To find their goal beyond our ken!
For that's why God sends babies here.

Old, old the theme, but ever new
The pain of childhood ones who view
The baby in the seat ahead—
The little one with dimpled hands Which clutch and cling at mother's dressed.

Or just her cheek in soft caress,
Or point in pointing wonder through
The window at the fleeing lands
Where strange and stranger things appear!
The little hands which grope among The clouds with which the heart is strung,
And fill the heart till it overflows
With all the best that living knows:
For that's why God sends babies
here.

—Youth's Companion.

HOG CHOLERA CONQUERED.

Serum Officially Experimented With Shows That Sick Hogs Treated With Serum Will Recover.

Hog cholera has, in the opinion of the agricultural department at Washington, been conquered by a serum which the bureau of animal industries has been testing. The bureau thus describes an experiment at the Union stockyards at South Omaha, Neb., in co-operation with the Union Stockyards company of Omaha:

The stockyards company purchased thirty pigs, weighing from forty to sixty pounds each, from a farm which had been free from hog cholera for several years. These pigs were brought to the stockyards, and on July 23, 1910, four of them were injected with blood from hogs sick of hog cholera.
These inoculated pigs were placed in a pen by themselves and within five days they had become sick, at which time eighteen of the remaining pigs were each given one dose of the serum, while the other eight pigs were not treated in any way. The eighteen serum treated pigs and the eight untreated pigs were then placed in the same pen with the four pigs which had been made sick by inoculation.

The four pigs which at first were given hog cholera all died, and the eight untreated pigs all contracted the disease from them. The eighteen pigs which were given serum and which were confined in the same pen with the four originally sick pigs and with the sick untreated pigs remained perfectly well and were finally turned over to the officials of the stockyards company upon the completion of the experiment, Sept. 17, 1910.

The department of agriculture does not distribute this serum to farmers, but is endeavoring to bring the value of this method to the attention of the stock raising interests in order that they may arrange to secure state funds for the manufacture and distribution of the serum.

A GOOD SWILL TROUGH.

This Adjunct to the Phippen Will Save Time and Labor, Besides Preventing Porkers From Upsetting Their Feed.

The illustration shows a device that will save much trouble and temper.
Every one knows how much genuine pleasure it gives the hogs to jump up and spill the whole pail of feed over you when you are reaching out at arm's length to place it carefully in the trough. This may be avoided by Swill Trough of Boards.

the simple tube illustrated, made from boards of a height equal to the height of pen from feeding floor.

At the top a hopper is built so that the feed may be poured into same with ease. The bottom is cut out on two sides in a half circle, so as to allow the feed to flow from the tube into trough. It is thus an easy matter to place this tube in the trough, dump in the feed and then lift out the tube, thus avoiding all antagonistic feelings between the feeder and the porkers.

A DOG PROOF FENCE.

Will Also Prevent Cattle From Reaching Over Into Crops Growing Next to Pasture Lot.

The illustration shows an effective method of arranging a fence that will prevent dogs and other animals from jumping over it and annoying cattle as well as discarding farm animals from reaching over the fence into crops that grow in fields next to the pasture lot.
As illustrated, sharp toothed 4 by 4 inch scantlings are nailed to the top

Dog Proof Fence.

of the posts at right angles. These should project at least one foot on each side of the post, and barbed wire is then easily strung and fastened to these crosspieces, making a fence that will even discourage the small boy from attempting to climb it.

BASE BALL.

The game commenced with Gould's in the field. Dale, the first man up, got a hit and scored. Beale was put out at first by a throw from the catcher; Pike got a hit but Lawler caught him off at first with a quick throw.

For Gould's, Smith took first of a walk and scored; Foster got a hit.

In the fourth, Rebbles and Randall scored for Bridgton, giving them the lead by one score. In the sixth, Pike and Rebbles each scored. Things looked rather bad for Gould's at the end of the first half, but when Gould's came to the bat they ran in four scores and again took the lead. Pike then took the box. Young and Taylor both scored in the seventh. Mayberry and Shaw both knocked a fly to the pitcher and Randall went out at first by a throw from the short stop. In the eighth, Arnes and Brown both got hits but were left on base.

In the ninth Pike knocked a fly to second which was easily handled; Rebbles was caught at first by a throw from the short stop and Randall was put out at first by an assist to the pitcher. Gould's gave up their inning and the game was ended with a score of 8 to 5, in Gould's favor.

This is undoubtedly about the best game ever played on Abnaki Field.

Many Deductions. It was in the hotel dining room. "That Boston girl at the third table is rather pretty, isn't she?" remarked the great detective.

"Yes," replied his friends. "But how do you know she is from Boston?"

"That's easy," answered the D. A. "She is chewing her tea sticks."
